MR. ARLIE A. SCHARDT
Principal

DEDICATION

The 1965 Scroll Yearbook honors Mr. Arlie Schardt for his outstanding service to Washington High School. In his nineteen years at Washington, Mr. Schardt has distinguished himself as a principal, administrator, and friend.

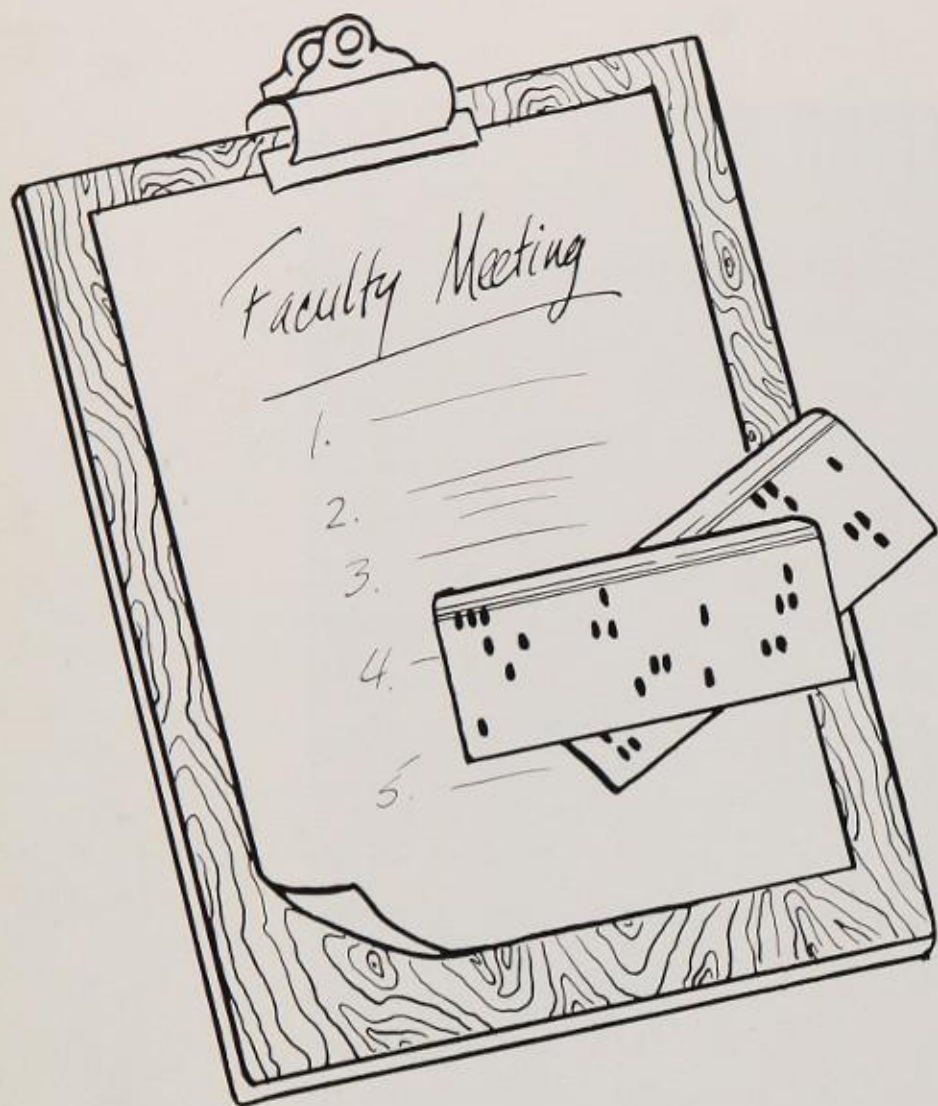

Leadership has played an integral part in Mr. Schardt's career. As a student at South Division High School, he held the presidencies of the Century Debating Society and the Athletic Association, and served as vice-president of his graduating class of 1913. Later at the University of Wisconsin he captained the university cross-country team, and set records in the three-quarter mile, the mile, and the two-mile events in track. His athletic career was climaxed in the 1920 Olympics, when he won a gold medal in the 3000 meter team race.

In World War I he saw active service in the army, retiring with the rank of lieutenant colonel. After the war, Mr. Schardt enrolled at Marquette University and completed his graduate work for a master's degree.

It has been in the field of education, however, that Mr. Schardt has made his greatest contributions. His teaching career began in the history department at South Division, where he continued until 1937, when he was appointed vice-principal of West Division. He later transferred to Riverside, where he served in this capacity until 1946. At that time, Mr. George Balzer retired as principal of Washington, and Mr. Schardt was appointed to the position.

Under his guidance and leadership, Washington has grown with the times. Additional classrooms and a music annex have been added to cope with the steadily increasing enrollment. New clubs have been established to meet new interests, and existing organizations have been encouraged in their development. The curriculum has been expanded to meet the needs of our rapidly changing society.

It is with pride that we dedicate this Yearbook to Mr. Arlie Schardt. His nineteen years as our principal have been marked by an active participation in every phase of our school life. He has left an impression on Washington High School that touches every student in every kind of activity. It is for this total impression that all Tonians will long remember him.

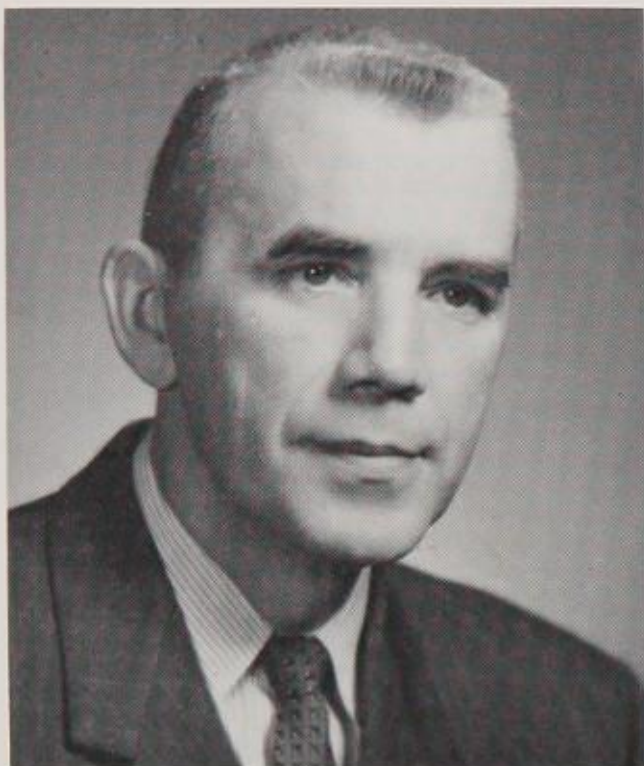

Although Mr. Schardt has been an administrator for many years, he has never lost touch with the classroom situation and the problems of the teachers. His leadership has guided the faculty through years of change in curriculum and growing enrollment, and his organizational abilities have enabled the school to pursue an even course with a minimum of delay. The faculty has found in Mr. Schardt a competent leader. For those who have had the pleasure of serving under him, his inspiration and dedication to the teaching profession will serve as a permanent example of the true educator.

"You will meet a tall, dark stranger . . ."

A keyhole view of Chemistry II.

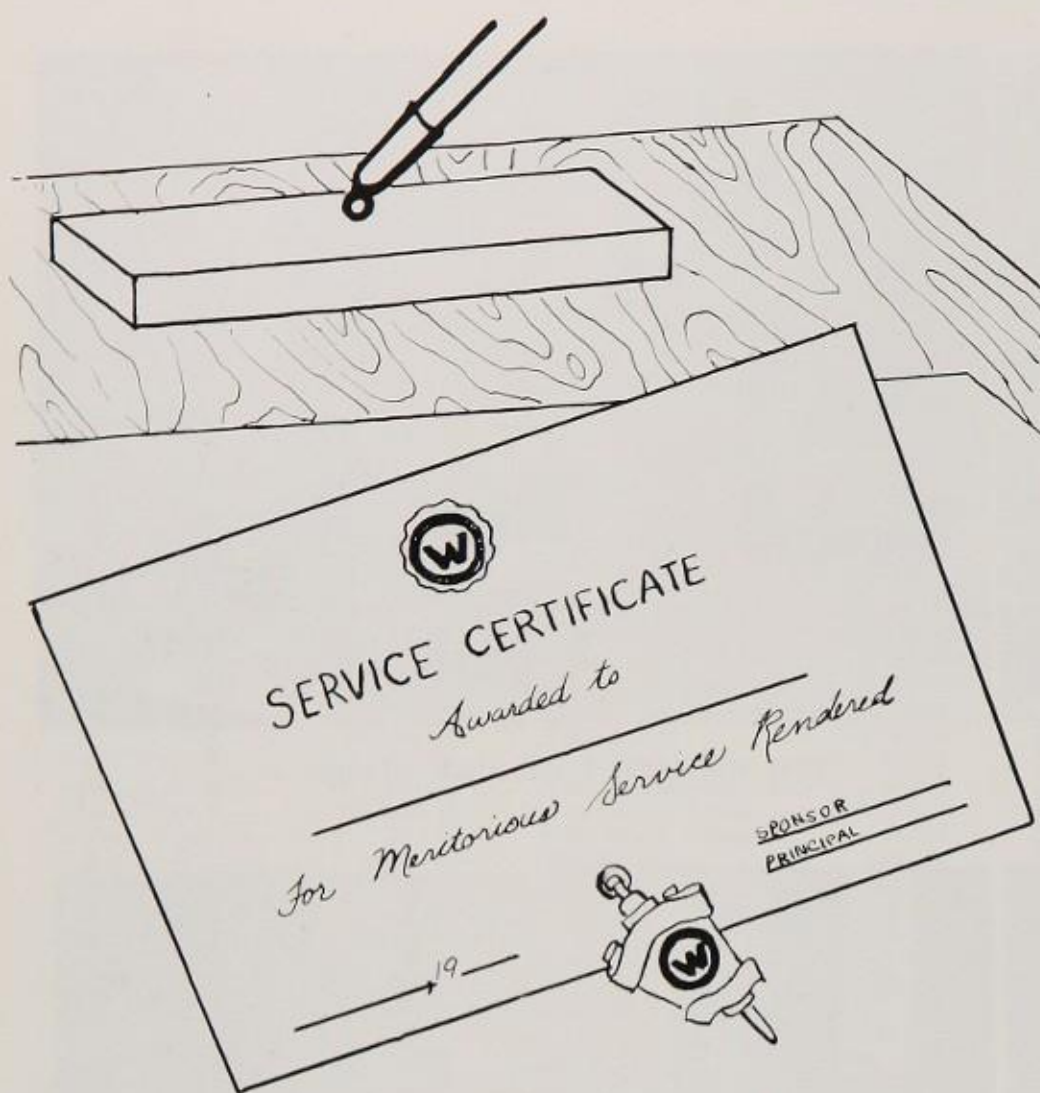

Always put your best feet forward.

Look what comes in Crackerjack!

"But Mr. Bowker, I don't have enough time to study!"

Service is an important part of the school life of every Washington student. Mr. Schardt has taken an active interest in all phases of student service, and he has worked closely with Tonians in backing the various service organizations. He has taught students that through service to Washington they will learn the importance of participating in civic and national affairs. Through his encouragement Tonians have become more active, and as a result both the school and the students have benefited from his interest. His efforts have enabled the student body to build the school spirit and unselfish character that have become a tradition at Washington.

Mr. Schardt believes that the purpose of education includes social enrichment as well as intellectual progress. For this reason clubs have been an integral part of the extracurricular activity at Washington. Voluntary participation in the various groups has enabled Tonians to gain valuable knowledge and develop additional talent in several fields. Friendships with faculty and students have been formed through this work, and the art of leadership has been developed through the many positions of authority made available to the students. Mr. Schardt has also encouraged the formation of new clubs to keep pace with the needs and interests of the entire student body. Tonians are indebted to him for his awareness of this important aspect of school life.

Athletics play an important part in the comprehensive program of extra curricular activities at Washington. As a former star athlete and coach, Mr. Schardt has continued his interest in sports by encouraging athletic participation on all levels. He has promoted enthusiasm, teamwork, and good sportsmanship that have become a trademark of varsity, intramural, and G.A.A. competition at Washington. Because he realizes that school spirit and loyalty are important, Mr. Schardt has encouraged Tonians to support their teams and attend the various athletic contests. Through his efforts, athletics at Washington have helped to maintain the high standards that are associated with Tonians.

Again this year the girls of Washington High School have had the opportunity to increase their skills and practice good sportsmanship through the Girls' Athletic Association. G.A.A. met on Monday and Friday nights under the direction of Miss Klarner, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Walker. This year, life saving classes, tumbling, and tennis were introduced.

Throughout each semester the girls are given points for their active participation in G.A.A. The girl who receives the highest number of points is the Gold Medal Winner. The next four are named the High Point Girls.

Even though every girl can't be a Gold Medal Winner, the fun and friendship she experiences with the other girls are worth all the time and effort she may have spent as a member.

The senior year is one of contemplation and concern for the many Tonians who are to graduate each semester. When a student reaches the end of his senior year, Washington High School has completed its primary purpose—education. The door is then open, and it is up to the individual to step out into a new world in which he must rely upon himself. At a time like this, the senior needs a source of inspiration, and thousands of graduates have found that source in Mr. Schardt. His dedication to his work, his faith in young people, and his concern for the welfare of everyone have inspired countless seniors to strive for the best. Through his example of leadership and administrative ability, Washingtonians have been prepared to meet the demands of a complex society.

FEDOR

The 1965 Scroll Yearbook has attempted to show that Mr. Schardt has played an important part in every facet of school life. Whether the event was an auditorium program, a club meeting, or a football game, Mr. Schardt has taken an active interest in assuring its success. Most of his work has been done behind the scenes, without the knowledge of the student body. His influence, however, has been felt in every area of school life. In glancing through the succeeding pages of views of school life, it should be remembered that without Mr. Schardt, these events would never have been possible.

VIEWS

PURGOLD PERSONALITIES

Washington offers something for everyone. School life includes everything from the active life of a cheerleader to the quiet pursuit of a chess game. Variety is found even in a gym teacher's form of punishment.

GLAD GRADS

Music has charmed Tonians often in the past year, both on and off the stage. Graduating seniors, as well as student leaders, will long cherish their appearances on the stage of Washington High School.

TALENTED TONIANS

Our auditorium programs reveal a wide variety of activities. The B-team cheerleaders joined the regular cheerleaders in many pep rallies, and who could forget the glamorous style shows and the student hootenany.

CURTAIN CALLS

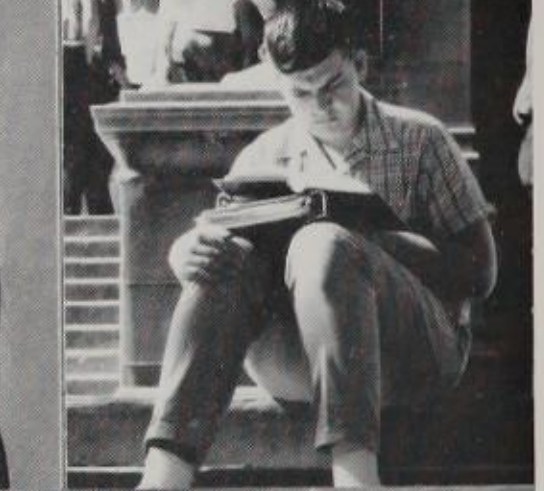

Athletes and their coaches share the spotlight with visiting choirs and our own musical groups. But to the graduating seniors, the march across the stage is the most important of all.

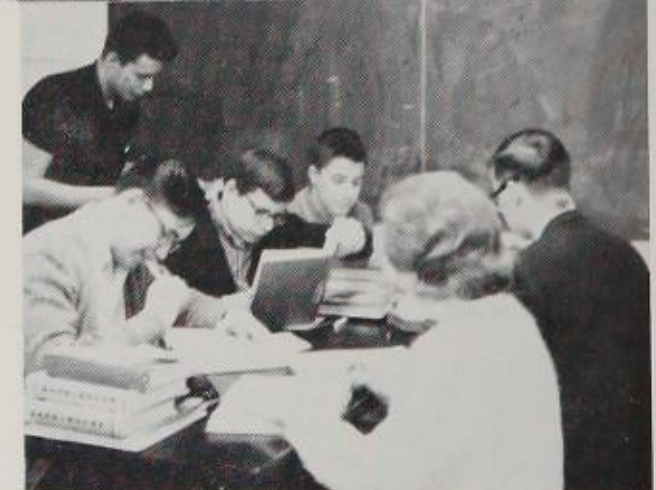

PERSEVERING PUPILS

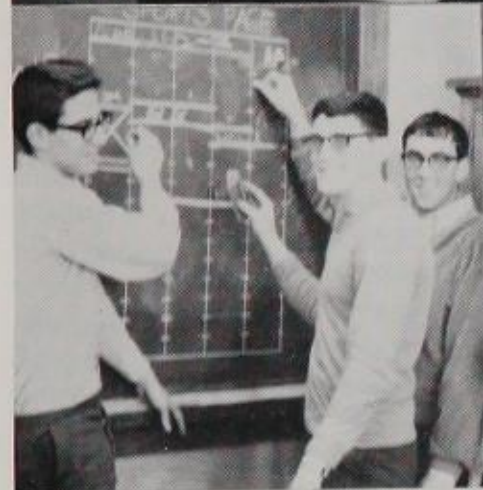

Seriousness of purpose is a trait of many Tonians. Whether working in study hall or grabbing a few minutes outside at noon, every minute counts. The same seriousness is seen from decorating for proms to collecting hall passes.

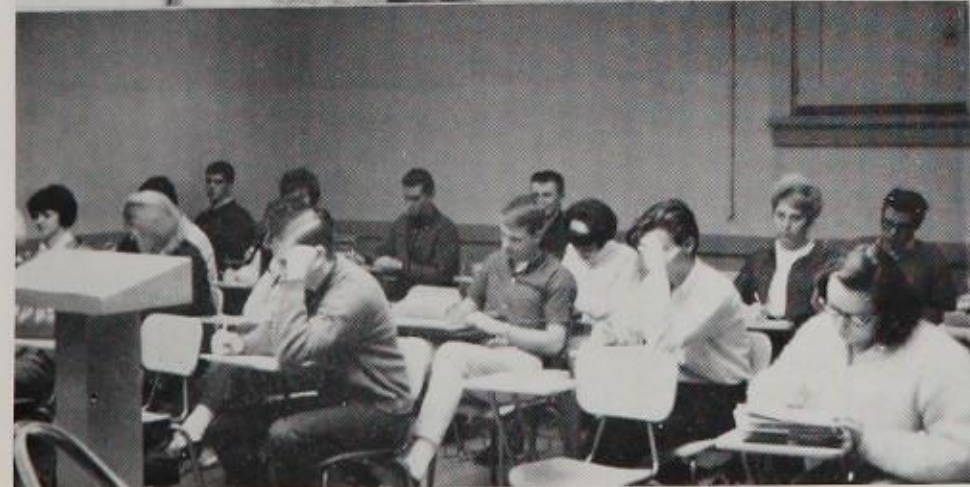

CLASSROOM CONCENTRATION

Washington offers classes to suit each student's taste. They vary from physics, to cooking, to wood-working, to language lab, and they illustrate the wide variety of subjects available to Tonians.

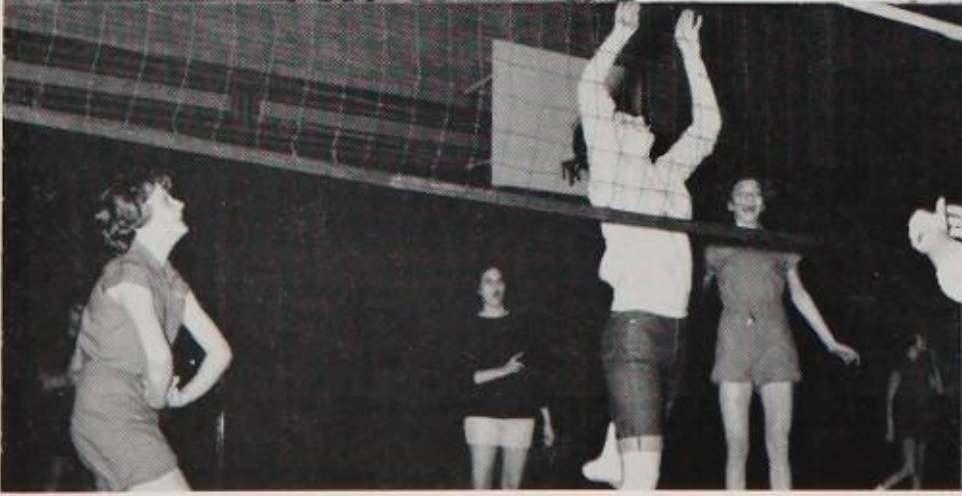

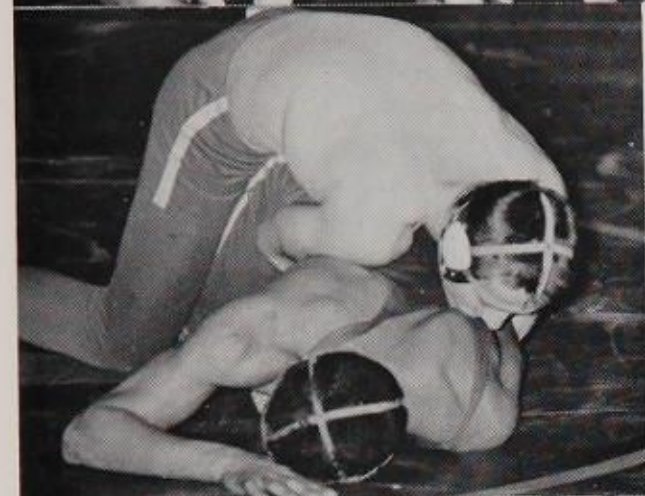

SPORTS SPECTACULARS

Athletics form a means of escape for all students. Through participating in varsity competition, a student-faculty game, or acting as a spectator, Tonians can forget the everyday routine and enjoy the thrill of competition.

AGGRESSIVE ATHLETES

Good sportsmanship and school spirit are important factors in athletics at Washington. The athletes who sacrifice their time and effort to produce good teams are rewarded by the gratitude of the school, whether they are competing on a court, in a fieldhouse, or in a stadium.

SWINGING STUDENTS

The royalty represent the elite of any dance, but the evenings are also magic for all who participate, from the students who decorate all day to the boys and girls who dance in the transformed gyms.

FRANTIC FRUG

Everyone has a chance to get into the act, and Tonians take every opportunity to be a part of Washington's extra-curricular activities. Dances are a popular way of working off the strains of study and relaxing to the strains of a good dance band.

All Tonians will long remember the famous jar of beans, Mr. Schardt's favorite illustration of leadership rising to the top. Each year our student leaders carry out his predictions as they take their positions of authority in our school's organizations and activities. More than anything else, however, it is Mr. Schardt's leadership that has inspired our faculty and students to do their best.
